A LUXURY.

Of all the accessories to the Toilet, none is more enjoyable than a rich fragrant perfume What can be more pleasing to the senses than the aroma of blooming flowers, and not only pleasing, but actually healthful? Pathologically the use of perfumes is exceedingly valuable, their well-known prophylactic properties exercise a most beneficial influence. To the invalid there is nothing more agreeable or refreshing than the Citrine odors of purely floral fragrance, avoiding always the heavy sweet perfumes of France and England, which are so apt to cloy and satiate the sense of smell, rather injuring than refreshing those persons of delicate organisation. In

MURRAY AND LANMAN'S
FLORIDA WATER.

We have the pure and natural fragrance of flowers in bloom, unaltered and unimpaired by the addition of any foreign substances, and entirely free from the heavy sweetness above referred to. It is, we believe, the only perfume passessing in a marked degree, the power of

REFRSHING AND INVIGORATING

Both the body and the mind. It is adapted equally for the Handkerchief; the Toilet, and the Bath. For the first-mentioned nothing can be more exquisitely delicate, yet full-bodied; weeks after sprinkling, the handkerchief is found to exhale a perfect wealth of delicious aroma. For the Toilet it is quite unequalled, a few spoonfuls mixed with the water in the basin tending greatly to soften and beautify the skin; and we believe it to be a Perfume suitable for use

IN THE BATH,

Where its wonderful refreshing and invigorating properties give it peculiar value. In some parts of the world it is customary to empty from three to six bottles into each bath: but this quantity is not necessary—from a half to a whole bottle will be found to produce the most delightful effect, filling the bath-room with clouds of fragrance, and imparting a delicious buoyancy to the fatigued body and mind.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

Always ask for the Florida Water, prepared by LANMAN and KEMP, New York, who are the sole Proprietors of the genuine article.

It being an admitted fact, that "Money makes money," the object of LA BIENHECHORA could not be better, since it opens a vast Savings Bank for the surplus or savings of the Public, so that, by the proper employment of these small gains, a moderate capital, or even annuity, may be secured in a short time. By this means a provident, though helpless, family can husband their small means, and, in the end, attain a competency.

It being proved that the accumulation of interest is the most powerful means of augmenting the capital, THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA—an Argentine Company, whose only investments are in the country—holds out to Subscribers greater advantages than any other Institution, by reason of all its dealings being in the River Plate, where are current as large interests as is any part of the world.

MONTEVIDEO.

ANTIGUA FOTOGRAFIA.

MONTEVIDEO.

This popular Establishment continues to maintain its well-earned reputation of being the first Photographic and Fine Art Gallery in the River Plate. Its Proprietor, during a recent visit to Europe and North America, has spared no effort or expense to secure the best artistic skill, and the latest and most approved inventions applicable to the art.

The new building, in Callo 33, is modelled on the celebrated Rentlenger Studio in Paris, and combines all the modern improvements and latest inventions of the day.

PHOTO-DRAWINGS.

This new style of picture, introduced by Mr. S. L. Reignolds, of London, makes the finest and most effective style of Portrait known at the present day. Their purity of colouring and delicacy of tone is such, that some of the first English artists have been unable to determine whether they are Photographs, or simply and purely Water Color Drawings. The process is peculiarly applicable to the reproduction and enlargement of Card Photographs, enabling the artist to introduce accessories and backgrounds, change dresses, or alter figures; and, in fact, to make a harmonious portrait, which will be a 'Picture' on which the eye rests with pleasure, as well as a faithful likeness.

THE PORCELAIN PICTURE.

All styles and sizes, plain and, colored, of this popular novelty, in prices ranging from five to twenty-five patacons each.

THE REMBRANDT STYLE.

WAR NEWS.

Since the memorable decree of the War Minister respecting army correspondents; we have had very little war news of any moment, whether it was the heavy rains that flooded the Gualeguay river or the fear and dread of a Court Martial by our friends in Entre Rios, it is difficult to say, but certainly things for the last week have been generally regarded as in 'statu quo.' Our colleagues the Nacion and Prensa have made a most fearless stand against the War Minister's fiat, and we certainly agree with the Nacion, that, however inconvenient it may be for the Commander-in-Chief to have all his movements published in the papers, it is still far more impolitic to leave the public in utter blindness as to the real state of affairs at head quarters. The following items of news have been published by our colleagues the Nacion and Prensa, and as neither the editors or correspondents of those papers have been court martialed, we suppose the news is unobjectionable and can be relied on:—

Colonel Bread-and-water (Paniagua) has at last declared in favor of the National cause.

Colonel Peter Garcia who won his epaulettes in Paraguay, and who was supposed to be in command under Richard L. Jordan, has turned up at Gualeguaychu, and called for a sword to fight by the side of Gen. Mitre.

General Emilio Mitre although suffering acutely from rheumatism, has mounted his charger and left Gualeguaychu, to take the field at the head of his men.

The French and Italian Consuls at Gualeguaychu, seeing the exposed state of that town, have gone round to the houses of their respective countrymen, and induced them all to take up arms in defence of that town.

The day before yesterday the soldiers of Almada carried off the two daughters of Don Lucio Sosa, aged respectively fourteen and sixteen years; the same day these soldiers sacked the estancia of Sr. Vela, a very fine place; they killed a number of cattle. Thus, these soldiers not only uphold the cause of assassination, they sack peaceful habitations and violate virgins.

Major Genaro Perez was taken up in Gualeguaychu on suspicion, but has since been liberated; he has now joined the National army.

The latest news about Richard L. Jordan is that, at the encampment commanded by Col. Tejera, he has about 1,300 men. Yesterday Jordan was expected up to review these troops, next day to return to Cala, where he has an army of 7,000 to 8,000 men. Col. John L. Gonzalez had been ordered with his men to reinforce Almada previous to his attacking Gualeguaychu, and both these officers are supposed to be now besieging that town, Taborda, who was taken prisoner by Jordan's men, was not put to death as reported, but liberated on parole, not to fight again against the province.

Col. Denis, who it was thought had pronounced in favor of the National Government, has joined Richard L. Jordan; his division, it is said, numbers 1,200 men who, in combination with Gallows, will operate on Parana.

Chasques arrived from the encampment at Tejera; it is announced that the department of Victoria has declared in favor of Jordan. Gen. Galarza, who arrived up in a steamer, could not get a single man. Col. Navarro, Gefe Politico of Nogoya, and Velasquez, of Villeguay, were lately in Parana; they arrived without any forces, as all their men dispersed on the road. Col. Navarro has since left Parana and gone down to Rosario, where he at present stops.

The wife of Serjeant-major Villanueva, of the artillery corps of Richd. Lopez Jordan, has received a note from her husband stating that the artillery is well mounted and organised, and that he has under his immediate orders eight guns, six of which are rifle bored.

Minister Iriondo has returned to Santa Fé from Parana, which he says wears an improved aspect. General Conesa has been reinforced by the 12th of the line, and the 2nd cavalry. He is now advancing on the enemy, leaving Nogoya on his flank, and determined to attack the enemy on the arroyo. Richard L. Jordan's forces here are put down at 3000 cavalry and 800 infantry, and six pieces of artillery. General Conesa says that with his troops alone he has more than sufficient to put down Jordan. He wrote from the Quebrachito. Almost every day there are soldiers and officers passing over from the enemy's lines. The spirit of the National troops could not be better. A number of Correntino chiefs have come over to Conesa's camp, only one or two went to Jordan. General Mitre's army is just two leagues out from Gualeguaychu. The army was brought to a halt by the heavy rains.

In an interesting correspondence in the Prensa we read,—

"The majority of the Entre Rianos are undecided, and watching the result of the first engagement; if this should be adverse to the National cause, Jordan will be the great gainer, for it will give his troops fresh spirit, will double his men, and by Querencio Fernandez and others it is believed will gain for Jordan the aid of Brazil. If on the other hand the National army gains the day, then it is all up with Jordan. It is therefore highly essential that the commander should take every care about the first fight; Mitre and Conesa should join their forces, the troops to conquer are the soldiers of the line from Buenos Ayres, Santa Fé and Corrientes. The Entre Rianos must not be trusted till after the first fight; then, yes.

Jordan is waiting with 7,000 men for Conesa at Nogoya, of which 3,000 are infantry, who drill all day, and are commanded by Entre Riano and Oriental officers who served in Paraguay."

This is the amount of war news up to the present; we commend it to the careful attention of our readers. It shows that the Entre Riano question is after all more serious than is generally supposed in this city.

RIO JANEIRO.

ARRIVAL OF THE COMTE D'EU.

Probably the finest reception and most enthusiastic welcome ever accorded to a public man in any country, was that given to the Comte d'Eu last week by the city of Rio de Janeiro.

On the morning of the 29th of April, at about seven, a rush of rockets from the summit of the Castello hill, and the simultaneous enflagging of the signal mast of the semaphore telegraph station thereupon, announced to the still drowsy city that the steam transport Galgo, in which was coming the much expected warrior, was off the harbour's mouth. At the signal, all the still slumbering life of the city threw off its lethargy and sprang into activity and expectancy, and the ironclad Lima Barros, upon which were the Emperor, the Empress, the Princess Imperial and the Ministers of State, accompanied by the ironclads Cabral, Muñiz e Barros and Herval and the corvettes Magé and Paraense, which had been lying, with steam up and banked fires, upon the watch, sallied out to meet and escort the honoured vessel which was bearing the now renowned young general back to the embrace of the Imperial family, and to the less familiar but equally genuine welcome of a rejoicing people.

As those scarred, battle-tried ironclads met the Galgo they passed and drew up in the rear, but the Lima Barros shot alongside the transport to permit the illustrious guests to pass to that which bore the Prince. What then occurred in the reunion with a long-absent and beloved husband and son is not within a chronicler's province to detail, but we may relate that one of the earliest actions of the Princess Imperial was to affix upon her husband's breast the Medal of Military Merit, which a decree, published that morning, had conferred on the Comte d'Eu for his distinguished bravery as commander-in-chief at the engagements of Peribebuy and Campo Grande.

As the squadron steamed up the harbour, the forts pealed forth their salutes; and further on, as the Galgo passed the foreign man of war anchorage, the great guns of the vessels lying there took up the warlike welcome and sent their deep thunderclap-like roars to wake up the echoes of every hill within a dozen miles around. Up too, up their gaily decorated riggings, swarmed the jolly tars to man the wide-extending yards, and, clear above the deafening roar of the monster cannon below, and the vociferous vivas that rung from myriads of Latin throats afloat and, ashore, rose the mighty heart-throbbing Anglo-Saxon cheers from the manned spars of the British and American war vessels then in port.

As the Galgo neared the Arsenal of Marine the view that grew up before her guests was lovely in the extreme. On shore, in front, waving banners and decorated arches met the view at every point, and every standing place was densely thronged with well-dressed persons cheering and fluttering welcomes to the returning General. Up the bay lay the great fleet of merchantmen, all streaming with flags and pennants. In the rear white wreaths yet floated heavily around the forts and men-of-war, lit up momentarily by deep red lightning gleams and flashes, while over the thick, increasing war-cloud reared the signals of peaceful rejoicing, in the decorated masts half eclipsed by the mist like smoke that curled aloft. And over all were the blue sky and the bright orb of the Tropics, to lend the enchantment of sunlight and shade to one of the loveliest scenes of nature ever animated by the works of man,

After breakfast on board the transport, the Imperial party at landed the Arsenal, which had been filled for hours with eager expectants. On landing, the Count D'Eu was met by Captain Gabaglia, who had been deputed by the Brazilian Polytechnic Institute to present an address of rejoicing at the Prince's return to again preside over its meetings. After hearing the gallant Captain's patriotic and complimentary speech, the Emperor with the Empress and the Count D'Eu with the Princess Imperial proceeded on foot towards the Imperial chapel, between which and the Arsenal some battalions of National Guards and volunteers attempted to preserve a lane, vainly, for the eager crowd burst through their lines and, in the general anxiety to obtain a close view of the hero of the occasion, the Imperial party were not left unscathed, but good humouredly accepted the situation.

As the party entered Rua Direita, preceded by private bands of music, by the young ladies of the Conservatory of Music, singing the Hymn of Victory, and by deputations from various corporations, including the Typographists of Rio, the street resounded with the simultaneous cheer which burst from the densely packed streets below and from the multitudinous gaily decorated windows and balconies filled with brilliantly costumed ladies. Every step in advance brought new enthusiasm into action, and as the party rounded the bend which had as yet concealed it from the majority of the expectants, the whole street seemed to lose stability and to resolve itself, pavement and walls alike into a moving river of restless life, while from high up the steeps of S. Bento far into the distant avenue of the Misericordia there rolled on a mighty cheer, resounding, reverberating, unfaltering and undrooping until in the interior of the Chapel the favourite of the people disappeared from its sight. Such a tremendous, long sustained manifestation of popular enthusiasm was indeed a sight which once witnessed can never be forgotten.

After spending some time in devotions within the Chapel, the Imperial party passed through into the city palace. While there, audience was given to the deputation of the typographists, who, in honour of the Count D'Eu's return, wished to give liberty to two children, as the testimonial most welcome to his known sentiments. On being introduced, the spokesman of the deputation, Sr. Alberto Victor Gongalves de Fonseca, delivered the letters of manumission into the hands of the Prince, accompanying the act with the address.

A little later the Emperor and Empress, the Comte d'Eu and the Princess Imperial entered an open carriage to proceed to the Palace of S. Christovão. As they drove slowly through the streets in that direction, the enthusiasm of the people burst out with renewed vigour, and the demonstrations of Rua Direita were reiterated in every part, the hurrahing multitudes thronged around and followed with cries of welcome and delight, while, from every decorated balcony, ladies showered down flowers upon the carriage and uttered blessings and vivas of rejoicing. In the Campo de Sant' Anna the carriage was stayed by a deputation of ladies, including the pupils of the college of Santa Rita de Cassia, of which the Princess Imperial is Patroness, and a girl stepping forward, presented a bouquet, accompanying the flowers with a little welcoming speech, both of which were received with kindly thanks.

After this episode the Imperial party drove on to S. Christovão, receiving everywhere fresh demonstrations of welcome and rejoicing, from crowds whose numbers made it difficult to conceive that even this city of 400,000 souls could furnish them in addition to the multitudes already passed within the precincts of the lower city.

In the evening, like unwearying popular ovations attended the drive of the Imperial party from S. Christovão to the Palacio Isabel in Laranjeiras. Every street through which the carriage passed was decorated, and was replete with crowds; and, as night came on, the city woke into a magnificent and general illumination, never equalled before in Rio de Janeiro, even when at his return from Uruguayana, the good citizens of St. Sebastian of Rio de Janeiro gave their surpassingly magnificent demonstrations of loyalty and rejoicing to the First Citizen of Brazil.

At the Arsenal of War a triumphal arch was reared in front of the entrance, along whose first face were portraits of the Emperor (in the centre), the Comte D'Eu and the Duke de Caxias, and on the other those of General Osorio and General Camara.

In another place was a niche formed chiefly of Paraguayan arms, in which lay the sword taken from Lopez at his death, and across it the lance with which Chico Diablo, the Brazilian corporal, pierced him in the short fight at the head of his men. In the same niche, also, were the swords of Colonel Estigarribia and other captured Paraguayan officers, and an inscription with 'Aquidaban—Camara,'

In the Arsenal of Marine, beside the shipbuilding shed was a fine hexagonal pavillion having a large model of the ironclad Alagoas in its centre; on the upper part of the faces were the names of the ironclads which forced the passage of Humaitá, and on the faces of the pedestal whereon the model rested, were the names of the other ironclads constructed in the arsenal.

At the Exchange, a doubtful taste had reared a huge scenic decoration representing a 'Decorative Gothic Mansion,' which appeared a transplant from the precincts of a theatre to the proscenium of the Temple of Commerce. In the rearmost and higher part, which rose from the terrace to represent the body of the 'Decorative Gothic Mansion,' the centre bore the Imperial arms, with those of the Comte D'Eu and Duke de Saxe beside them, and the extremities carried those of the Argentine Confederation and the Republic of Uruguay.

Below the central arms stood, as if poised in air, amid a divergency of rays of light, a figure scarcely in concord with Gothic art, one whom Gothic architects devoutly hailed as a demon,—Mercurius, the Roman god of Commerce, and, alas for the credit of the patron and the clients!—we whisper it lowly to the President of the Commissao de Praça, noble Caxias's commercial brother—of jobbery, trickery and thieving, hardly Gothic virtues.

On the frontage rising from the terrace were portraits of the Emperor, the Comte d'Eu and the Duke de Saxe, and on the façade were twenty-four inscriptions, recording incidents of the war, with due pre-eminence given to those occurring under the command-in-chief of the noble brother of the President, leaving no room for those of the gallant old hero who smiled benignant pity from the opposing balcony of the London and Brazilian Bank. Below were painted six large Gothic windows, whose half-drawn crimson curtains revealed decidedly pre-Raphaelite gems of pictorial art, representing scenes of the Paraguayan war, in the style of that fame-bruited artist of ancient times, who, anxious for the encouragement of knowledge, appended to his work the label "This is a goose."

Taken all in all, the structure at the Exchange was a triumph of the taste of its designers, and we understand that it is to form the massy frontage of the vast Temple of Fame which anxious friends are now again busy rearing to that sun in the firmament of stars, that military whale among minnows, the unconquerable Duke de Caxias.

On the opposite side of the street, well displayed, even at night in the light of the brilliant illumination of the London and Brazilian Bank, in whose precincts it occupied the place of honour, was the magnificent life-sized portrait of General Osorio, painted by order of the Rio Grandenses in Rio de Janeyro, which represents the veteran warrior standing, lance in hand, beside his favorite white war-horse; from his elbow flows the gore of a recent wound. Day and night this noble picture attracted a crowd to admire its beauty as a work of art, and its vivid portraiture of the single-minded hero whom La Plata and Brazil unite in calling the Bravest of the Brave.

In the Rua Direita, further Roman arches were raised at the various entrances to Rua Mercado, which street, though in the rereground, distinguished itself by its adornments.

Rua de Don Manoel had a handsome column festooned with coloured glass lamps, besides a variation from the Gothic and Roman types.

Rua do Hospicio was converted into an avenue of palm trees, and when at night the lamps suspended from them gave forth their light, the street presented an appearance so suggestive of Arcadian repose and beauty as to attract numbers from its more glittering neighbours.

The Rua da Constituição was also one which drew great numbers to its attractions. The Praça was surrounded by festoons of branches suspended from pyramids springing from trophies of banners; and from theatre to theatre the street was an avenue of many coloured lights and decorations, in which was seen, half-way up, a beautiful arch reared upon the street, inscribed with glorious names and symbols.

Over the Braga coffee house were brilliant transparencies, portraits of the Emperor, the Comte d'Eu and Osorio; and, besides its other decorations, the S. Pedro de Alcantara theatre presented a grand allegoric transparency representing Argentina and Urugayana reaching crowns of laurels to Brazil, who stood trampling under foot the writhing flame-coloured demon of tyranny, furnished for the festive occasion with a peagreen tail.

The vast Campo de Santa Anna was illuminated all around, and the brilliant gas-lit fronts of the many public buildings lighted up even its dreary camara-forgetten chaos. In the Sande and the new city, successful efforts attested the spirit of their inhabitants, and the Gas Works lit up their long and, bannered front, and displayed upon the central dome a great crown resting on a cushion of scarlet velvet, which, splendidly illuminated at night, was seen far and wide reared above the district.

The district of Larangeiras rose also to the occasion, and clothed its walls with verdure, waving flags and light. Specially beautiful was the Rua da Guanabara.

But, of course, the sights of Rua do Ouvidor bore off the palm of magnificence and splendour, and, conjoined with the glories of Rua Direita, the chastened beauty of Hospicio, the illuminated palace of the Tenentes do Diabo in Sete de Setembro, the bewitchingly lovely arcade of Rua dos Ourives, arched with myriads upon myriads of coloured lamps, drew into its precincts and neighborhood the great mass of the eager sight seers who thronged the streets during the four nights in which the great illuminations were displayed, Rua do Ouvidor presented many attractions both by day and night. From end to end it was covered with banners waving overhead, the shop fronts and balconies were generally dressed and ornamented, and at night the stretch between Rua da Quitanda and Rua dos Ourives literally blazed—a fiery arcade—with close-set arches of brilliant gaslight, presenting a glorious scene before whose dazzling lustre the rest of the street paled into almost dimness, except in spots such as the office of the Reforma, over whose office its name and mission in one were written in letters of living fire, fitting symbols of the great minds that wield its pen.

We will here rest from our useless attempt to enumerate the general rejoicings in honour of the Comte d'Eu's return from Paraguay. As we have already said, nothing approaching in splendour and enthusiasm the popular welcome just accorded to the Comte d'Eu was ever before displayed in South America.—Anglo Brazilian Times

MONTEVIDEO.

We are almost as much in the dark here about the progress of the revolution or movements of the Government forces as if Sr. Bustamante had followed the arbitrary example set by your War Minister. The fact is there is no news worth relating; both armies keep moving about. By last accounts Aparicio was somewhere near Cuñapiru, most likely looking up the sinews of war which Mr. Bankart proposed to exist there in large quantities. General Castro is said to be close on his heels, with the famous Maximo Perez in the van. Others, again, give the position of the belligerents as close to Lake Mini, on the confines of Brazil; but what matter where they are, so long as they keep clear of our towns and don't interfere with business. As for the poor estancieros losing their cattle and horses, that is of slight consideration, for, since the country seems doomed to be always sacked by marauders, what matter is it whether they owe allegiance to Aparicio or 'any other man.'

General Suarez, of whose movements the Government was long in fear and trepidation, is daily expected in town, having refused to accept the post of Chief of the Staff offered him by General Caraballo. The General pleads that the proper working of his gold mines occupies all his time and abilities; which should otherwise be most unhesitatingly consecrated to his old profession of arms. Some say it is expected that he will bring with him a large quantity of the precious metal, which he has petitioned Government for the right to coin.

A last call has been made on the members of the 2nd Battalion of the National Guards, Government having received information that several hundred men had crossed over to Entre Rios and joined Lopez Jordan under promise that he would afterwards aid them.

The Government has ordered the Gefe Politico of Paysandu to purchase and arm the Reconocedor, for the purpose of guarding the river.

There is some talk of a railway to Maldonado, touching at several small towns 'en route.' The concessionaire, Sr. Villain, asks no Government subsidy, depending entirely on foreign capital for its realisation. It is a pity the 'happy thought' did not sooner strike our enterprising friend. The unenviable position of the shareholders of the Central Uruguay Railway is likely to damp the ardor of would-be speculators.

There is positively nothing doing on the Bolsa, except speculations in paper. Large sales were done at from 5⅜ to 6¾ per cent.

Exchange on London, per Douro, £75,000. On Paris 100,000 francs.

May 18th.

Yesterday Montaña was handed over to the Argentine Representative here, his delivery being demanded by your Government on the charge of murdering young Urquiza. Great indignation is everywhere felt for the perpetration of such a dastardly crime, and all hope to see the cowardly assassins brought to justice.

The health of the city could not be better; only five deaths on Tuesday; of these two were children.

The weather is very cold.

The news from the army in the North is very reassuring. In Paysandu there was a force of 350 men, all well organized and officered. Colonel Moyama was momentarily expected, with the Tacuarembo division.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The great event of yesterday was the funeral service held in the Cathedral for the late General Urquiza. The ceremony was not official but a mere family arrangement, yet never in our recollection have we seen the vast aisles of our Metropolitan Church so crowded from an early hour. President Sarmiento accompanied by his two aides de camp arrived about half past eleven, and took a seat near the relatives of the deceased. His escort formed outside the Church and fired the customary three salutes during the celebration of the ceremony. Minister Gorostiaga was also present, and a host of military and civil authorities although all in plain black clothes. The Corps Diplomatique was fully represented, and all the leading personages of our native and foreign society were there, including a very large contingent of the fair sex. The family of General Urquiza cannot but have derived consolation in their heavy affliction from this genuine and spontaneous demonstration of sympathy.

On Wednesday afternoon a severe accident occurred opposite Messrs. Cranwell and Murray's Apothecary's Hall. A cart passing by, got into a rut, and being doubly loaded the axle broke, and one of the wheels came off with a loud crash, striking a workman, who was mending the side-walk, between the shoulders, and cutting a gash two inches in length over one of his eyes. He was carried in a fainting state to Cranwell and Murrays, where he was revived from his insensibility, duly bandaged up, and sent to the hospital, as, on account of hæmorrage from mouth and nostrils there is but little doubt that he has received severe internal injuries.

The latest addition to our museum is a cabin door made of Paraguayan cedar. It is beautifully carved and displays a rare talent in the untutored people, considering the rude implements at their disposal. It was taken at Villetta shortly after the fight, but the hardness of the wood leaves no marks of the bloody struggle.

The friends of Mr. Agustine Pressinger will be glad to learn of this gentleman's appointment to the rectorship of the Escuela Sarmiento in San Juan, this school having undergone a thorough remodelling. As a proof of the high estimation in which Mr. Pressinger is held by the worthy San Juaninos, we may mention that in a very short time four hundred and fifty youths had sworn him allegiance.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. Ralfe met with an accident yesterday, being thrown from his horse, in consequence of which he broke his leg.

Dr. Velez Sarsfield may be expected in town by the 10 o'clock train from the Tigre to-morrow.

The banquet at the Telegraph Office on the occasion of the Cordova Railway inauguration, which was given by the Maua Bank to the National Government, eclipsed the 'dejeuner' prepared for the President at the Hotel San Martin. It was a nice tribute of respect by the Maua Bank to the Government, and the more appreciated by H.E., since it was every way unexpected.

At the inauguration of the Cordoba Railway on Wednesday, among the many messages that were despatched, Mr. Crauford sent the following: The STANDARD greets the Englishmen resident in Cordoba, and through them congratulates the people and government of the province and Mr. Wheelwright upon the conclusion of this monumental work in which so great a share has been taken by the dear old country.

Mr. Velez Sarsfield's speech at the inauguration of the Central Argentine Railway, containing 1,561 words, was received during the ceremony, the transmission occupying one hour and ten minutes. The operators were Mr. P. Trant in Rosario, and Mr. Tassart in B. Ayres. The Central Argentine Telegraph was worked by Talbot's staff, whose names we do not know.

Our Montevidean subscribers will please take notice that on and after the 1st June the subscription to the STANDARD in Montevideo will be the same as in Buenos Ayres, that is to say thirty paper dollars per month or its equivalent in Montevidean paper money. We have been compelled to adopt this rule, owing to the expenses we incur in delivering the paper there and the very heavy losses we have sustained by the Junta Economica, the Curso Forsozo, the Uruguay Railway and the Government.

Another murder on board the ponton is reported. An officer of the Capitania of Rosario, Don José Gatica, was assassinated by two of the marines on board. We are unaware whether the assassins have been captured or not, nor is it probable that there will be any further notice given to the public of the matter than these few hurried lines. When may we hope for a reform?

A rather interesting debate took place in the House the other night on the subject of Lopez Torres flatly refusing to be sworn on the Holy Evangelists. Some members endorsed Lopez Torres' sentiments and maintained that there was nothing in the Constitution to compel an Argentine to be so sworn. It was put to the vote, and finally carried against Lopez Torres, deciding that he must take the usual oath or be excluded from the House.

Mr. Heap has arrived out to undertake the works of the Rio Cuarto Railway; we believe he awaits the return of the Prime Minister, Dr. Sarsfield, and Mr. Wheelwright, previous to leaving for the up country.

The water supply works of Montevideo it is said will be ready for public inauguration by August. The great sea wall of Lezica and Lanuz has been finished, and the immense sites of reclaimed land will shortly have streets running through them. Don Baldomero Martinez is one of the largest owners of these sites; he purposes selling them in Buenos Ayres.

The sale by auction of the Cruz Varela museum has proved a great success. The prices realised were in some instances fabulous; and the net proceeds will, we believe, greatly exceed the expectations of the proprietor of the wonderful collection. We have not heard it the National Government made any acquisition for the Museum at this sale; if not, it has made a mistake, for such an opportunity is rarely presented in this country. We understand a good many of the most valuable objects were picked up by English connoisseurs. The result of this sale must be looked on as evidencing a growing taste in this city for art in its various attractive forms.

The Kepler arrived at Rio de Janeiro on the 10th with her machinery damaged; it was expected that several days would be required for its repair.

There were one thousand invitations issued for the inauguration banquet at Cordoba. Three hundred people went up from Rosario on the 15th. Consul Hutchinson, accompanied by his wife, reached Cordoba on the 14th to attend the opening ceremony. On Monday night divine service was performed at Mr. Wheelwright's office, and for the following evening a sermon at the Santo Domingo Church by Canon Piñero was announced; the grand Inauguration ball was fixed for Wednesday. The banquet took place in a wooden shed, 200 feet long, which was expressly arranged and decorated for the occasion, and looked like the most elegant and comfortable saloon. Four hundred of the railway navvies had tables to themselves at the banquet under their several 'capatazes.' The weather in Cordoba is frightfully cold, and the hills and mountain ranges covered with snow.

Adelina Patti, the great Diva of the age, had a narrow escape from destruction lately. When returning from St. Petersburg with her husband, the Marquis of Caux, the saloon carriage in which she was travelling took fire. Her cries alarmed her husband and suite, who were all in bed, and they immediately used every effort to extinguish the flames; but without effect. Happily the train (an express) stopped at the Bemberg Station in time to permit of the whole party escaping a dreadful death. The fire originated from a sofa in the sleeping carriage taking fire from the intense heat of the stove with which all such carriages on the Russian railways are provided.

There were some disasters in the port of Montevideo on Tuesday night, through the strong gale that prevailed from the S.W. A man was drowned through the capsizing of a boat, in which he was going ashore with three companions from a vessel in the harbor; the others were saved. Several cases of fouling and dragging anchors occurred, but no more serious damage among the shipping.

Mr. Woods, whose name is so prominently connected with the termination of the Central Argentine Railway, leaves soon for England with his wife. It is not too much to say that but for Mr. Woods' abilities and energy, the great work that has just been so happily concluded could never have been so within the stipulated time. It is also greatly to his credit that the line is pronounced by engineers to be equal in solidity and perfection of construction to any European railway.

The Provisional Government of Paraguay has ordered a criminal prosecution to be instituted against Mrs. Lynch. There is plenty of useful work cut out for the authorities of this unhappy country which might well claim precedence of such an absurd and useless proceeding as the above.

The translated version given by our colleagues of the speech of the Emperor Dom Pedro when opening the Brazilian Chambers puts into his Majesty's mouth a reference to the 'ex President of Paraguay.' His Majesty, whose literary and oratorical fame is well known, is incapable of such a 'lapsus linguæ.' We are, therefore, forced to the conclusion that our colleagues' knowledge of Portuguese is somewhat rusty and wants rubbing up.

Yesterday was a somewhat quieter day in town than its immediate predecessor. No bells, no rockets, no cannon, no flags, and no danger of being killed by falling rocket sticks. One hundred of these dangerous projectiles were picked up in our patio yesterday. Unless Lopez Jordan is disposed of before the 25th, we may hope for a quiet life till then.

To-night Nabuco will be given at the Opera-House, with Madame Zaconi as Abigail. A crowded house is expected.

The scenes at the inauguration lunch in the Mauá Bank on Wednesday were, we are told, touching in the extreme. Everyone was in such high spirits that he insisted on embracing his neighbor, and old feuds and political differences were forgotten in the philanthropic excitement of the moment, that marked the completion of the main link in the iron chain which will one day bind the provinces of this Republic into a homogeneous and powerful nation.

We are not yet done with the Gavotti case. The relatives of young Gomez shortly after the scandal with which all are familiar, set their wealth and influence to work to find out the antecedents of the 'fat and fair' bride; the result of which enquiries has just been transmitted by the Argentine Consul at Vienna to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Dr. D. Mariano Varela, and is as follows;—La Gavotti is daughter of the door porter at a Milan theatre, and up to the time of leaving home enjoyed but a hazy reputation for propriety of conduct; her husband is living with a "chereamie" in Austria. We think the Consul at Vienna has fairly earned the $1,000,000 m/c. offered by young Gomez, who by this time will probably be delighted to get out of his bargain even at this high cost.

We understand that Sr. Guido y Spano will succeed Sr. Juan C. Varela as Under Secretary to the National Senate.

The police made a seizure of arms and ammunition on Wednesday in a house in Calle Montevideo: they were intended for the insurgents in the Banda Oriental.

The Municipality has authorized the re-opening of the Hotel Roma, as yellow-fever has almost disappeared from the city.

Messrs. Muñiz and Balbin have, we understand, resigned their seats in the Provincial Senate.

Sir Richard Peel, K. C. R. arrived yesterday at Montevideo in command of his ship the Tycho Brahe. We salute this illustrious Knight of the Order of the Rose on his return to the Plate. The dates per this vessel are to the 20th from Liverpool. The Chiarini circus troupe is, we hear, on board.

A company of acrobats will perform in the Plaza Victoria on the 25th.

ON 'CHANGE.

	May 19, 1870.
Ounces,	400
Sovereigns	122½
Patacons	25
Nat. Bonds	67½

The Bond market continues tighter than the money market; all the holders of Bonds prefer to pay even the highest rates of interest to carry their Bonds rather than sell at present rates. The result is there are really no sellers, and the few who to fill their contracts or to employ their money are compelled to buy are forced to pay the highest prices. There was not much done in bonds to-day: a small cash sale established the price to-day at 67½, but even at these rates there are no sellers. For the end of May there was a good deal done at 67½, and in the liquidation at 67⅝. For the end of June there were sales on the board at 68¼, but later on in the day rates for that date went violently up, and sales were made as high as 68¾, and for the middle of June at 68¾.

The feeling in the liquidation room was that prices have yet to advance, notwithstanding that the more cautious who bought one or two per cent. under present prices are securing their gains.

Money continues most inconveniently tight, best city paper is in the hands of discount brokers who offer it at 1 and even 1½ per cent per month, paper that in former years was never soon but by the bank directors; but the Provincial bank is now unable to discount even half the paper offering while owing to the state of its treasury, it must continue to collect 10½ on all bills maturing, and this rule will in all probability be continued throughout the year. The bank being therefore unable to give the same accommodation as last year, and compelled to collect 10 instead of 6 per cent., the money market must necessarily remain tight as it is at present all through the winter.

River Plate produce has not improved in Europe, but prices are maintained. In politics no thing important. An important telegram was received by an English house with news from the States, but the character of the news was kept as a secret,

Dates from New York to 19th.—Gold 113¼. Cotton, 23½. Exchange, 109½.

Rio Janeiro, 14th.—Sovereigns, 10,850, and rising. Exchange 23 to 22½, falling.

The Arequipa sails for Valparaiso on Saturday Paper in Montevideo, 6½. Exchange, 51½ to 51¾ Cargo of Cardiff coal at 9½.

Exchange was offering and done in this market freely to-day at 50d. Some of the bills offering and passed were from Rio.

The Commercial bank of Montevideo has resolved to emit new bills convertible in specie or in the curzo forzoso notes authorized by Government. The London and River Plate Bank has also notified the public that henceforward the legal tender bills will be received in deposit; this measure has been forced upon these banks owing to the great circulation of these notes and the difficulty of carrying on business purely in specie There is not much gold in Montevideo, but quite enough for the trade going on there; money, that is to say paper money, is much cheaper there than in Buenos Ayres. Respecting the claim of Sr. Sala upon the house of Berro and Co., we have to say that Messrs. Berro and Co. acted the most honorable part possible in the matter; by an error of calculation the purchaser of some foreign conpons overpaid Messrs. Berro 9,000 patacons, who without knowing of the mistake paid the amount over to Sr. Guimaraens of the Italian Bank, who held the coupons on mortgage. When the purchaser in Buenos Ayres explained the matter to Sr. Berro of Montevideo, he at once took steps to recover the money, but meeting with some delay he paid to Mr. Sala out of his own pocket the 9,000 patacons overpaid by Sr. Sala. On Monday Sr. Guimaraens refunded the money to Messrs. Berro and Co., thus satisfactorily arranging this delicate business. The Wanklyn bank has made a very good start, Mr. Flowerdew is most popular with the merchants, and the business of the new concern is daily increasing. An Englishman who fled last week from Buenos Ayres with some valuables was, through the medium of the telegraph, arrested and on handing back the property, was at once liberated,

Respecting the loan which proved the principa topic of conversation to-day, we have been informed from an authentic source that the negotiation has not been definitively concluded. Besides Mr. Montravel's proposal the Government has received others direct from Europe, and has not decided which it will take. All the proposals are of a most favourable nature, but it is the general impression on 'Change that it is more advantageous to the interest of the country at large that the loan in questions should be paid for in specie imported, and not by bills of exchange drawn on Europe. As at present owing to the high rate of exchang in Rio, the rates have gone up, and should the new contractors of the loan, have power to draw for even a portion of it, exchange on England must inevitably rise to 52d. As the Congress is sitting, it is more than probable that the Finance Minister will previous to accepting any of the offers, submit them all to the House. It is sufficient for the commercial public to know that the loan will be done, and that immediately, and on terms more favourable than established by the law of last session. Furthermore we can add that there is no probability of the bonds of this new emission being sold in this market, they are already bid for on foreign account, and it suits neither the Government nor the commercial public to flood the money market here with negotiable securities which can be so advantageously placed abroad. The immediate result of the negotiation of this loan will be the reimbursement to the Provincial Bank by the National Government of all sums advanced in account current, and this will prove a direct benefit for the money market, in as much as it will enable the bank to discount more liberally

Mixed and mestiza at 50, 52, 54, 55 and 56.
Lambs wool, 52, 55 and 56.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA AND Co.
101--Cangallo--103
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current we now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays an holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p. %) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishes can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositer loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

MARAVILLA COCOA—For Breakfast.—The Globe says "Various importers and manufacturers have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocoas, but we doubt whether any thorough success had been achieved until Messrs. Taylor Brothers, discovered the extraordinary qualities of 'Maravilla' Cocoa. Adapting their perfect system of preparation to this finest of all species of the Theobroma, they have produced an article which supersedes every other Cocoa in the market. Entire solubility, a delicate aroma, and a rare concentration of the purest elements of nutrition, distinguish the Maravilla Cocoa above all others. For homœopaths and invalids we could not recommend a more agreeable or valuable beverage." DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
(Ex Army Med Staff)
CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the Inventor of CHLORODYNE that the story of the Defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent Hospital Physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne, that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—The Times, July 12, 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than
DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

THIS INVALUABLE REMEDY produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while Medical men extol its virtues most extensively, using it in great quantities in the following diseases:—

Diseases in which it is found eminently useful—Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colics, Coughs, Asthma, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Whooping Cough, Cramp, Hysteria, &c.

EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet Dec. 31, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay:—"Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after 18 month's severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed."

Extract from Medical Times, Jan. 12, 1866.—"Chlorodyne is prescribed by scores of orthodox medical practitioners. Of course it would not thus be singularly popular did it not 'supply a want and fill a place.'"

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

Beware of spurious and dangerous compounds sold as CHLORODYNE, from which frequent fatal results have followed.

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, Aug. 1, 1869, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.

CAUTION.—None genuine without the word "Dr. J. Collis Browne" on the Government stamp Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

To prevent INFRINGEMENTS NOTICE is HEREBY GIVEN, that BETT'S NAME is ON EVERY CAPSULE he makes for the principal merchants in England and France, thus enabling vendor, purchaser, and consumer, not only to identify the genuineness of the Capsule, but likewise the contents of the vessel to which it is applied.
